Fire which seemingly originated with an explosion in the oil room of the Universal Sales Co. Inc., 101 West Cherry street, at 6:50 Sunday morning, burned off the roof and gutted the second floor of the building with a loss of approximately $30,000.

Fifteen automobiles and a tractor stored on the second floor were destroyed, while other machines which were on the first floor were damaged by fire and water. Three people, one a fireman, were injured in this, and a fire in an adjoining home.

Fireman A. P. McIlwain, was cut on the wrist by flying glass, three stitches being required to close the wound; night watchman Henry Beighley was cut on the hand; while T. F. Roberts, of Wabash avenue, was burned about the hands fighting a fire in his home which broke out about the same time as the fire in the garage.

The blaze was discovered by Henry Beighley, night watchman, who rushed into the street, informing Wallace Patterson, milkman, who was making his rounds in that vicinity. Patterson turned in an alarm from Box 715. At the same time, the alarm was received at Central station by telephone and the B. Truck was dispatched to the scene.

On arriving at the fire, Assistant Fire Chief, James E. Thomas, had a

Suicide Ends Mystery In Philadelphia Murder

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 27.—The shroud of mystery around the "Country Club murder case" was ripped aside today through the suicide of Gaetano Dinzeo, 38, jealous suitor for the hand of Mrs. Agnes Little, 46, a widow whose body was found near the exclusive Cedarbrook Country Club house early Saturday. Dinzeo's body was found in his gas-filled bedroom. Apparently, police said, the man had studied newspaper accounts of his mythical "perfect crime" until asphyxiated by gas.

Plans World Flight With Robot Co-Pilot

NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—With a mechanical man as co-pilot, Wiley Post of Oklahoma City, internationally famous aviator, is planning a round-the-world flight in an effort to smash the record of 8 days, 15 hours and 51 minutes which he and Harold Gatty of Los Angeles established in June, 1931.

Post's plan for a solo flight around the globe, one of the most sensational feats ever attempted, was learned today by International News Service from the best of authority.

The date for the "take off" has not yet been determined. Post is now in Mexico testing the robot under varied conditions, such as low altitudes over water and high altitudes over mountains.

Every indication is that the robot will perform 100 per cent, thus injecting a new science into the art of flying.
Flight Plans Drawn.
Post has drawn his general flight plan and started grooming the "Winnie Mae", speedy Lockheed Vega, for the new trip. The robot has been installed, synchronized to the plane's individual movements.

All Post has to do to make the robot fly the ship at various altitudes and to do other things in the air is to shift a knob, just as one would operate his radio. The designer of the robot flyer is Bert Carlson of Sperry company. It is not a commercial production.

The secret of the machine's super-human touch is the governing of the ship's controls by the robot through hydraulic oil pressure. Two small gyros, according to Carlson, operate the jets which open or close the hydraulic lines. A sensitive diaphragm governs the pressure on the lines, keeping the designated altitude.

TOKYO, Mar. 27.—Emperor Hirohito today formally approved Japan's resignation from the League of Nations.

In doing so, the emperor gave the measure for withdrawal the highest sanction possible in the power of the island empire.

This step was taken after the council unanimously adopted the measure in a plenary session held at the imperial palace in the presence of the "Son of Heaven."

The announcement was later telegraphed to Sir Eric Drummond, secretary general of the league, at Geneva.

The document informs the league that "The Japanese government has come to the conclusion it can no longer cooperate with the league, and hereby notifies the league of Japan's withdrawal, according to the provisions of paragraph 3, article 1, of the league covenant."

Brings Climax
The announcement brought to a climax the chain of events begun when Yosuke Matsuoka, Japan's chief delegate, who is now in the United States, walked out the league assembly when that body adopted a report censuring Japan's military activities in Manchuria.

Proposed Salary Slash By Pinchot Bitterly Attacked

Salary Cuts

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—Gov. Gifford Pinchot's voluntary acceptance of a 10 per cent salary reduction and his willingness that a similar decrease should be made in the salaries of all state employees aroused the ire of Rep. Ellwood Turner, Delaware, today.

Turner accused the governor of attempting to compromise with organization leaders who previously recommended salary reductions of 20 per cent.

The governor suggested over the week-end that the pay of all employees, both elective and appointive, be exempt up to $1,200 and that 10 per cent be taken from the amount in excess of that sum. Recommendations of the organization were that the exemption be limited to $750 and 20 per cent be slashed from amounts above that figure.

Turner also assailed Pinchot for "blossoming into news as the leader in new legislation" by unfurling "the beer flag."

HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—A week into which all the major legislative problems have been jammed—the thirteenth of the session—and from which optimists expect a co-ordinated program will emerge, gets under way tonight.

Indications that the "jinx" might have its frolic in the 13th week were seen in the split of political forces over the old age pension amendments.

Formation of what politics knows as "unnatural alliances" has resulted. The battle to drag two resolutions from committee is scheduled for tomorrow.

Many Important Measures Up.
While the pension legislation, because of its political ramifications, stood in the foreground, unemployment relief, beer control, Sunday sports, and the Wilson school bills were crowded into the arena. Other bills of lesser importance loaded the calendars.

Gov. Gifford Pinchot, attorney General William A. Schneider, and organization leaders were to confer late this afternoon on a plan for controlling the manufacture and sale of beer. From this conference was expected to come a "harmony" (Continued On Page Two)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—President Roosevelt was prepared to make two additional moves this week to keep up the high tempo of his "new deal."

The first will come today, in the form of an executive order consolidating the eight federal organizations that are now undertaking varied forms of agricultural relief.

Later in the week he will propose radical legislation to Congress designed to operate the railroads on a basis that will give bondholders some measure of protection.

These additional gestures were the President's answer to hesitant but growing criticism in the House that "the administration is slowing up."

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—A new deal for the nation's jobless was proposed today as Congress prepared to consider a twin relief and job creation program calling for expenditure of upwards of $1,000,000,000.

The principles of unemployment relief for which President Hoover waged a bitter fight with Congress appeared to have been definitely discarded in the revised program of the new Roosevelt administration.

Supplementing the reforestation camp plan, a $500,000,000 direct relief measure was to be placed before the Senate by Senator Wagner (D) of New York, Costigan (D) of Colorado and LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin.

The measure sets up a federal relief administrator, which was vigorously opposed in the last administration, and provides new methods of aiding states and cities to meet the heavy calls for aid.

The relief administrator would make grants to states and municipalities, and the Reconstruction Finance Corporation would be shorn of its power to make loans to states.

Two Hundred Million
Each state would be given one-third of the public money expended by its sub-divisions for relief during the preceding three-month period. Two hundred million dollars would be available for this purpose.

Hold Inquest In Boy's Death

Coroner's Jury Holds Accident To Robert Mathews
Was Unavoidable

CHILD RAN INTO PATH OF MACHINE

After hearing the evidence in the accident case which resulted in the death of little Robert Mathews, East Brook school child, who died in the Jackson Memorial hospital, March 21, of injuries sustained in March 17, the coroner's jury absolved the driver of the truck, Richard O'Brien.

O'Brien admitted that he was operating at a speed excessive in school zones, according to the motor code, but stated that the little fellow had darted suddenly from the sidewalk of the bridge over Hettenshaugh run, near the schoolhouse, into the path of his machine, and that he had used every precaution to avoid a collision, swerving from the road and over an embankment.

The coroner's jury in their verdict brought out the admission of O'Brien that he was traveling at a speed too great for a school zone, but expressed the opinion that the accident was unavoidable.

Suffered Hemorrhage
Dr. David Perry, who attended the injured child, stated that death had resulted from a sudden secondary hemorrhage, resulting from the injury. The lad had suffered concussion, and cerebral hemorrhage, and sustained a compound fracture of the right arm when hit by the truck.

Robert Barron, of Volant R. F. D. No. 3, 14-year-old attendant at East Brook school, was the first witness to the accident.

He stated that he was standing nearby, and looked up just in time to see the accident. The little Mathews boy was about in the center of the little bridge over Hettenshaugh Run, when the truck struck him, the youth stated. The Mathews boy was playing on the bridge with other children, when the accident happened, the witness said.

The children had been getting sticks and throwing them into the water, then running across the bridge to see them emerge on the other side, when the accident occurred, Barron said.

Pittsburgh, Probably

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 27.—Mayor Charles H. Kline of Pittsburgh, today was ousted from office by Judge Thomas D. Finletter, of Philadelphia, who modified his original sentence in the case to permit the mayor to escape the stigma of serving a six months jail term.

Judge Finletter ordered that the executive, who was found guilty of one count of irregularity in the purchase of city supplies, stand committed until the $5,000 fine in the case is paid.

Mayor Kline, through his counsel, Edward G. Coll, of Pittsburgh, pleaded that service of the jail term would endanger his health. The assertion was upheld by six physicians who examined the mayor with the consent of Andrew T. Park, district attorney of Allegheny county.

Official Order.
The official modified order of the court read:

"And now, March 27, in consideration of the report of six physicians appointed to examine into the physical condition of the defendant, with the approval of the district attorney, the sentence imposed heretofore on March 1, 1933, is now modified so as to read as follows:—

"That the defendant be ousted and removed from the office of mayor of the city of Pittsburgh and that he pay a fine of $5,000 for the use of stand committed until this sentence is complied with."

Scottsboro Case
Threatened

(International News Service)
DECATUR, Ala., Mar. 27.—Charges that defense witnesses had been threatened with death if they testified were hurled today as the second trial of the "Scottsboro case," in which seven negroes are charged with attacking two mill girls, opened in a court house guarded by Alabama militiamen.

Samuel S. Leibowitz, of New York, chief defense counsel, planned to demand protection for his negro witnesses, who, he said, had been intimidated by residents of this Tennessee river community.

He had called these witnesses to testify in support of his motion to quash the indictment on the ground that negroes were excluded from the grand jury that investigated the case.

The negroes were first tried in Scottsboro and sentenced to death. The United States Supreme Court granted a new trial on the ground that the defendants were not allowed to prepare an adequate defense.

THOS. J. MOONEY TO HAVE ANOTHER TRIAL

April 26 Set As Trial Date

New Trial Is On Another Indictment In Seventeen Year Old Case

MOONEY HOPES TO SECURE PARDON

(International News Service) SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 27.—Plans for a new trial for Thomas J. Mooney, America's most famous prisoner, today awaited action by State Attorney General U. Webb.

When Judge Lewis H. Ward ordered Mooney to trial on a 17-year-old indictment growing out of the 1916 preparedness day bombing in which 10 persons were killed and 40 injured, District Attorney Matthew Brady and his staff disapproved themselves.

This made it necessary for the attorney general to appoint special counsel to prosecute Mooney.

To Start April 26.

Judge Ward set April 26 as the date in which the trial would be started.

Although the outcome of the trial will not affect the original murder conviction, Mooney's hope is, according to counsel, that if he is exonerated on this indictment, it will pave the way for a complete pardon.

However, Edward A. Cunha, special prosecutor of the original bombing trials, predicted Mooney would be sentenced to hang as a result of the new trial.

had just passed the group of children enroute back to the school building after getting her lunch, at her home adjacent to the school. She had talked with the children momentarily, in passing, and turned as she heard the noise of the truck just in time to see the Mathews boy struck.

After hitting the child, the truck swerved to the right and went down over a steep embankment, Miss Colchicki stated.

She said that the children had frequently been warned against playing in the road during the noon recess, but that a little boy had been observed in enforcing the rule, because the children had been warned so often about going out into the road.

She could not recollect hearing the horn being sounded in warning. Mrs. Mary Colchicki, mother of the child, said she was looking out the window, watching the children at play, and that directly after her daughter had passed the scene, the Mathews boy darted out into the road, when the truck loomed up and struck him, knocking him straight down the road; about fifty feet, or more down the road, the truck swerving sharply to the right and going down over the embankment. She had seen the children throwing the sticks in the water as previously described.

Dorothy Kerr, a little school girl, who with her sister, also saw the accident, told the same story.

Investigated Accident.

W. E. Stoops, state motor patrolman, told of being called to investigate the accident.

He stated that he had found skid marks, about twenty feet away from where the child was struck, which continued across the bridge, and on to the point where the car left the road. It was approximately 75 feet from where the child was struck to where the body had lain.

He had made the measurements in the presence of S. G. McCullough, principal of the school and an employee of the gas company.

Mr. McCullough, stated that he had looked up just as the accident occurred, from the school building, and saw the body of the child hurtling through the air and the truck skidding off the road. He ran to the scene immediately and saw the driver pick up the child's body.

John Mathews, father of the child, stated the boy was 7 years and 7 months of age and that he had attended the East Brook school only a day and a half, coming from the Hickory Heights school, which he had previously attended.

Driver Tells Story

Richard O'Brien, driver of the truck stated that he was enroute from Volant to New Castle, when the accident occurred, being an employee of the Ward Baking Co. with a route which covers the east side of New Castle and out the road as far as Volant. He operates out of West Bridgewater, where he made his home, he stated.

He was coming along the road at a speed of approximately 30 to 35 miles per hour, and saw the children on the sidewalk of the bridge. There were no children out in the roadway, he said. Just as he reached the end of the bridge, he saw the boy run out into the road on the farther side of the bridge. He said he applied the brakes and made every effort to avoid a collision, and pulled his truck sharply to the right as he neared the end of the bridge, the car being on the extreme right-hand side of the road, with the boy about in the middle. As he hit the lad, his car went off the road and down over the embankment.

Ralph E. Watson, a teacher at the building, came along. Mr. O'Brien said he picked up the boy and carried him to the truck, with Watson going along to hold the boy, when he was informed that there was no doctor nearer than New Castle.

They went to the office of Dr. Perry, and from there to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

O'Brien admitted that he was aware of the school zone and knew that in a school zone was 20 miles an hour. Patrolman Stoops, when later questioned, stated the speed limit was 15 miles per hour in a school zone.

The verdict of the jury was to the effect that Robert Mathews had died in the Jameson Memorial hospital, March 21, from the effects of injuries received March 17, when struck by a truck driven by Richard O'Brien. The jury found that O'Brien was operating the truck at a speed, excessive, according to the motor code, but felt that the collision was unavoidable.

Members of the coroner's jury were C. O. McKibben, James Cooper, Carl Stauber, Harry Davies, Willard Jones and Charles E. Allen.

Relief Proposal.

Pressed by the governor for definite action to alleviate destitution, the house has selected the Talbot appropriation bill as a special order of business on final passage tonight. The measure sets aside $2,000,000 to care for the poor during April and May. If enacted before the month expires, it also will serve as an inducement for additional federal loans from the R. F. C.

Holding a similar position in the lower branch are the six school bills. These would effect savings by reducing teachers' salaries and consolidating school districts. Many of their provisions have drawn the united opposition of educational leaders. Their consideration was expected to precipitate the major clash on the house floor tonight.

Senator John J. McClure, Delaware, was expected to ask the senate's concurrence in minor house amendments to his constitutional convention bill tonight. If approved, the bill, providing for 51 delegates to a convention to act on proposed repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, will go to the governor.

The revised measure gives the President power to use unexpended balances in the Treasury (except building fund for actual construction to begin in three months) to establish reforestation camps.

The work would be limited to reforestation, insect, fire and disease control, flood control and erosion in national forests and co-operative camps in state forests.

All provisions for a maximum $1 a day wage are stricken from the bill, the President being given power to fix cash allowances.

In approving the change President Green said it avoids a legislative declaration for a $1 a day wage and takes from the plan the appearance of military control of regimentation of labor.

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Mar. 27.—Fire destroyed the two-story brick dwelling at Second avenue and Eleventh street, housing the Asunda night club, early today, causing loss estimated at $10,000.

Starting in the kitchen at three o'clock, the fire spread to the first floor, and then to the second story before being discovered by passers-by. Furnishings of the club were destroyed as the fire swept through both floors. Gas masks were necessary in fighting the fire.

Fire Chief Edward Clawson said firemen's reports of finding kerosene sprinkled in the rooms was being investigated.

in connection with the purchase of city materials. The mayor and Suckow were indicted on a grand jury which investigated municipal affairs after the clamor of civic organizations resulted in an audit of municipal finances.

Trial At Butler.

Because of their contention that public opinion in the city was highly inflamed, Mayor Kline and his former director were granted a change of venue and placed on trial at Butler, Pa., with Judge Finletter presiding.

Holding that the mayor's conviction on the one count was contradictory because of his acquittal on another closely related Judge Finletter withheld sentence.

He was overruled by the state supreme court, which on the appeal of the city found the conviction in order. Judge Finletter then imposed the sentence. Mayor Kline was visibly shocked by its severity at the time.

The executive had already filed an appeal with the state supreme court when his attorneys decided to make a "trade" of his resignation for suspension of the jail term. The mayor entered a Pittsburgh hospital for observation and the report of the physicians was forwarded to Judge Finletter. They were of the opinion that the mayor's physical condition precluded any service of the terms without a critical impairment of his health.

Pittsburgh, Mar. 27.—Council President John S. Herron automatically will become mayor of Pittsburgh, probably tomorrow, as a result of the order by Judge Thomas D. Finletter of Philadelphia today suspending Mayor Charles H. Kline from office.

Twenty days following Kline's resignation, council will meet to elect a new mayor to finish the term which expires this fall. Herron is expected to be elected to continue his own post.

Judge Finletter's order today ended a lengthy legal battle by Kline to escape jail on his conviction of a misdemeanor in the purchasing of supplies.

FIRE DAMAGES SEVENTH WARD GARAGE SUNDAY

second alarm turned in from the box bringing out No. 5 and No. 6 departments.

Eight Two Fires

Simultaneously with the discovery of the fire in the Universal Sales Company building, a short circuit in the wiring of the home of T. F. Roberts, 16 West Walnut avenue, directly across the street from the rear of the garage, set fire to the home, and the firemen had two fires to combat.

Mr. Roberts and family were aroused by the smell of fire and found the entire structure filled with smoke. While Mrs. Roberts awoke the family, Mr. Roberts went to the first floor, where he found that the blaze was following the wiring, and pulled out the switch.

They were unable to get the fire department by telephone as they were already enroute to the scene of the blaze, and looking out, found them outside. Firemen had already laid a line of hose to the garage fire, and it was turned into the Roberts home, extinguishing the fire, but causing considerable damage by water.

The loss to the Roberts home and contents was estimated at $500, covered by insurance.

Fire Spreads Rapidly

The fire in the garage spread rapidly throughout the upper story, burning off the roof, and sweeping over the oil-soaked floor. Firemen were handicapped in fighting the blaze as there were no adjoining buildings higher than the structure, and they were unable to get into the second floor to work effectively until the roof had burned off.

They prevented the fire from getting down into the first floor of the building, although machines and equipment stored on the first floor were damaged by water and burning embers which fell on them from the floor above.

It has not been fully determined how the fire originated. Assistant Fire Chief James E. Thomas was told by Mr. Beighley, that there was something out of order about the switch controlling the motor of the elevator, and this in time may have become overheated, starting the blaze which spread to the room where oil was stored on the second floor in the repair department.

It is believed that the short circuit followed the wiring back into the Roberts home across the street, as the lines joined at the pole outside the Roberts home.

Estimates Loss

John W. Hartwell, president and treasurer of the Universal Sales Company, stated this morning, that he roughly estimated the damage at around $30,000, although a complete inventory may show the loss to be greater. Full protection was afforded by insurance.

Mr. Hartwell stated that his plans for the future were indefinite, although he would likely rebuild. The building was owned by the company. It was a two-story, cement-block building with tar-paper roof, and enclosed the entire block between Cherry street and West Walnut avenue, along Ashland avenue. Mr. Hartwell was informed of the fire, by telephone and with his son William, drove to the scene from his home in New Wilmington.

The fire was extinguished about 9:30, although it had been brought under control around 8 o'clock, that morning.

At 10:35 City Electrician Niclum, in looking over box 716 accidentally touched it off, causing a false alarm.

While answering the alarm, at the Universal Sales fire, one of the chains on the rear wheel of No. 5 truck, broke off and the loose end, flying around, cut a hole in the roofboard of the rear of the truck, knocked the fender loose and tore out the bottom of a hand extinguisher, causing damage of around $35.

Other Alarms

Two alarms were answered Sunday evening by firemen from No. 5, and Central station.

Someone stealing gasoline from an automobile owned by Samuel Abraham of 1320 Pennsylvania avenue, set fire to the gasoline. The damage was slight.

About 9 o'clock, firemen were called to Weinberg Alley, with the report that there was a fire in progress there but none could be found. Someone ran into No. 5 fire station, stating they had seen a big flash in the alley, and that it looked like a big fire. A line of hose was laid, but no fire could be found. The policeman on that beat told firemen he had also seen the flash.

ability or unwillingness to understand the facts of the situation in the Far East.

Japan, the document said, desires to maintain peace in the Orient. Despite secession from the league, it adds, Japan will cooperate with other nations in efforts for world tranquility.

No mention is made of the mandated islands now in Japan's possession, but official spokesmen declared Japan's secession has nothing to do with this problem.

Attempts by other nations to wrest the islands from Japan, it was added, will be met with determined opposition.

GENEVA, Mar. 27.—Japan today resigned from the League of Nations.

A cablegram announcing Japan's withdrawal of membership was received at 4 p. m. from Tokyo by Sir Eric Drummond, secretary-general of the league.

THOS. J. MOONEY TO HAVE ANOTHER TRIAL

April 26 Set
As Trial Date

New Trial Is On Another Indictment In Seventeen Year Old Case

MOONEY HOPES TO SECURE PARDON

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 27.—Plans for a new trial for Thomas J. Mooney, America's most famous prisoner, today awaited action by State Attorney General U. S. Webb.

When Judge Lewis H. Ward ordered Mooney to trial on a 17-year-old indictment growing out of the 1916 preparedness day bombing in which 10 persons were killed and 40 injured, District Attorney Matthew Brady and his staff disqualify themselves.

This made it necessary for the attorney general to appoint special counsel to prosecute Mooney.

To Start April 26.
Judge Ward set April 26 as the date on which the trial would be started.

Although the outcome of the trial will not affect the original murder conviction, Mooney's hope is, according to counsel, that if he is exonerated on this indictment, it will pave the way for a complete pardon.

However, Edward A. Cunha, special prosecutor of the original bombing trials, predicted Mooney would be sentenced to hang as a result of the new trial.

HOLD INQUEST

had just passed the group of children enroute back to the school building after getting her lunch, at her home adjacent to the school. She had talked with the children momentarily, in passing, and turned as she heard the noise of the truck just in time to see the Mathews boy struck.

After hitting the child, the truck swerved to the right and went down a steep embankment, Miss Colchick stated.

She said that the children had frequently been warned against playing in the road during the noon recess, but that a little laxity had been observed in enforcing the rule, because the children had been warned so often about going out into the road.

She could not recollect hearing the horn being sounded in warning. Mrs. Mary Colchick, mother of the teacher, stated she was looking out the window, watching the children at play, and that directly after her daughter had passed the scene, the Mathews boy darted out into the road, when the truck loomed up and struck him, knocking him straight down the road; about fifty feet, or more, down the road, the truck swerving sharply to the right and going down over the embankment. She had seen the children throwing the sticks in the water as previously described.

Dorothy Kerr, a little school girl, who with her sister, also saw the accident, told the same story.

Investigated Accident
W. E. Stoops, state motor patrolman, told of being called to investigate the accident.

He stated that he had found skid marks, about twenty feet away from where the child was struck, which continued across the bridge, and on to the point where the car left the road. It was approximately 75 feet from where the child was struck to where the body had lain.

He had made the measurements in the presence of S. G. McCullough, principal of the school and an employee of the gas company.

Mr. McCullough, stated that he had looked up to the accident occurred, from the school building, and saw the body of the child hurtling through the air and the truck skidding off the road. He ran to the scene immediately and saw the driver pick up the child's body.

John Mathews, father of the child, stated the boy was 7 years and 7 months of age, and that he had attended the East Brook school only a day and a half, coming from the Hickory Heights school, which he had previously attended.

Driver Tells Story
Richard O'Brien, driver of the truck stated that he was enroute from Volant to New Castle, when the accident occurred, being an employee of the Ward Baking Co. with a route which covers the east side of New Castle and out the road as far as Volant. He operates out of West Bridgewater, where he made his home, he stated.

He was coming along the road at a speed of approximately 30 to 35 miles per hour, and saw the children on the sidewalk of the bridge. There were no children out in the roadway he said. Just as he reached the end of the bridge, he saw the boy run out into the road on the farther end of the bridge. He said he applied the brakes and made every effort to avoid a collision, and pulled his truck sharply to the right as he neared the end of the bridge, the car being on the extreme right-hand side of the road, with the boy about in the middle. As he hit the lad, his car went off the road and down over the embankment.

Ralph E. Watson, a teacher at the building came along, and O'Brien said he picked up the boy and carried him to the truck, with Watson going along to hold the boy, when he was informed that there was no doctor nearer than New Castle.

They went to the office of Dr. Perry, and from there to the Jameson Memorial hospital.

O'Brien admitted that he was aware of the school zone and knew that in a school zone was 20 miles an hour. Patrolman Stoops, when later questioned, stated the speed limit was 15 miles per hour in a school zone.

The verdict of the jury was to the effect that Robert Mathews had died in the Jameson Memorial hospital, March 21, from the effects of injuries received March 17, when struck by a truck driven by Richard O'Brien. The jury found that O'Brien was operating the truck at a speed, excessive, according to the motor code, but felt that the collision was unavoidable.

Members of the coroner's jury were C. C. McKibben, James Cooper, Carl Staebler, Harry Davies, Willard Jones and Charles E. Allen.

bill" which will be rushed through both houses and signed before April 7. Unless regulatory legislation is enacted before that date beer can be sold on an unrestricted basis in Pennsylvania.

Relief Proposal.
Pressed by the governor for definite action to alleviate destitution, the house has selected the Talbot appropriation bill as a special order of business on final passage tonight. The measure sets aside $2,000,000 to care for the poor during April and May. If enacted before the month expires, it also will serve as an inducement for additional federal loans from the R. F. C.

Holding a similar position in the lower branch are the six school bills. These would effect savings by reducing teachers' salaries and consolidating school districts. Many of their provisions have drawn the united opposition of educational leaders, their consideration was expected to precipitate the major clash on the house floor tonight.

Senator John J. McClure, Delaware, was expected to ask the senate's concurrence in minor house amendments to his constitutional convention bill tonight. If approved, the bill, providing for 51 delegates to a convention to act on proposed repeal of the Eighteenth amendment, will go to the governor.

ident Congress would act speedily on the compromise reached by the President with congressional leaders and President William Green of the American Federation of Labor.

Power Extended
The revised measure gives the President power to use unexpended balances in the Treasury (except building fund for actual construction to begin in three months) to establish reforestation camps.

The work would be limited to reforestation, insect, fire and disease control, flood control and erosion in national forests and co-operative camps in state forests. All provisions for a maximum $1 a day wage are stricken from the bill, the President being given power to fix cash allowances.

In approving the change President Green said it avoids a legislative declaration for a $1 a day wage and takes from the plan the appearance of military control of regimentation of labor.

New Kensington Night Club Burns

(International News Service)

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Mar. 27.—Fire destroyed the two-story brick dwelling at Second avenue and Eleventh street, housing the Asunda night club, early today, causing loss estimated at $10,000.

Starting in the kitchen at the rear of the first floor, the flames had spread to the second story before being discovered by passers-by. Furnishings of the club were destroyed as the fire swept through both floors. Gas masks were necessary in fighting the fire.

Fire Chief Edward Clawson said firemen's reports of finding kerosene sprinklers in the rooms was being investigated.

in connection with the purchase of city materials. The mayor and Saccop were indicted by a grand jury which investigated municipal affairs after the clamor of civic organizations resulted in an audit of municipal finances.

Trial At Butler.
Because of their contention that public opinion in the city was highly inflamed, Mayor Kline and his former director were granted a change of venue and placed on trial at Butler, Pa., with Judge Flettler presiding.

Holding that the mayor's conviction on the one count was contradictory because of his acquittal on another closely related, Judge Flettler withheld sentence.

He was overruled by the state supreme court which on the appeal of the city found the conviction in order. Judge Flettler then imposed the sentence. Mayor Kline was visibly shocked by its severity at the time.

The executive had already filed an appeal with the state supreme court when his attorneys decided to make a "trade" of his resignation for suspension of the jail term. The mayor entered a Pittsburgh hospital for observation and the report of the physicians was forwarded to Judge Flettler.

Herron To Become Mayor
Pittsburgh, Mar. 27.—Council President John S. Herron automatically will become mayor of Pittsburgh, probably tomorrow, as a result of the order by Judge Thomas D. Flettler of Philadelphia today ousting Mayor Charles H. Kline from office.

The mayor's resignation is expected to be placed before city council tomorrow.

Twenty days following Kline's resignation, council will meet to elect a new mayor to finish the term which expires this fall. Herron is expected to be elected to continue his own post.

Judge Flettler's order today ended a lengthy legal battle by Kline to escape jail on his conviction of a misdemeanor in the purchasing of supplies.

EMPLOYMENT BRANCH NOT AFFECTED HERE

New Castle's state cooperative employment office, maintained at the Y. M. C. A., will not be affected by a federal order closing United States employment bureaus in the larger cities, Superintendent R. L. Meermans declared today.

The local branch, operated by the state, does cooperate with the federal department of labor, but receives no financial support whatever from it. The closing of U. S. bureaus comes as a part of President Roosevelt's drastic budget paring.

FAITH—

The success of our business has been brought about by always watching the cost. No business will succeed unless the cost of each article is very carefully compared with the cost of that same article elsewhere.

Overhead or cost of doing business must be figured down as low as possible and still be able to give good service. This we have done. Which enables us to quote our prices not by guess, but knowing the cost, we are able to quote the same prices on the same service to every one and that price as low as it is possible to quote and still continue in business.

HAVE YOU THE UTMOST FAITH IN YOUR FUNERAL DIRECTOR.

Von Hindenburg Is Satisfied To Take Back Seat

Former German War Lord And President Hopes To Find Peace And Rest

THINKS HITLER "MAN OF HOUR"

Has Longed For Retired Life For Many Years, Still Holds Powerful Grip

By WALTER DIEZEL, International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1933, by International News Service)
BERLIN, Mar. 27.—Hindenburg's moment of his supreme powers to Chancellor Adolf Hitler today brought to President Paul von Hindenburg a feeling of vast relief and freedom.

Approaching the end of his trail, with more than 84 years of strenuous life behind him, the aged chief executive has accepted the transfer of dictatorial prerogatives to the Nazi leader with calm resignation.

Rest and Peace

"How I can find rest and peace," he remarked, "if God should call me."

President von Hindenburg's calm acceptance of the Nazi dictatorship, International News Service learned from sources close to him, is traceable to his firm conviction that unification of the German people has at least been achieved.

He is deeply impressed by the parades and demonstrations staged by millions of Germans in celebration of the new nationalistic regime.

He sees in them a rebirth of the old German spirit of forcefulness and vigor. With the cares of state shifted to the shoulders of a man just half his age, President von Hindenburg is now content to spend long hours sitting in an armchair in his study, smoking cigarettes and blowing smoke into the air with a self-satisfied smile.

Never Wanted Office

Von Hindenburg never wanted to be president of the Reich. When the war ended he was ready to retire to private life—to live in peace and seclusion on his estate in East Prussia.

But the late Admiral von Tirpitz pleaded with him to take the office. "You are the only man," von Tirpitz said, "who can bring Germany to its feet."

Von Hindenburg now feels that this mission has been realized. He is satisfied he acted correctly in overcoming his aversion to Hitler, whom he once labeled as "just good enough for postmaster-general."

So far as curtailment of his power is concerned, President von Hindenburg is not worried.

Still Holds Power

While he has been deprived of the right to draft and sign laws and emergency decrees, and will no longer be kept informed of every decision, two vital instruments of power remain in his hands.

One is that of dispensing any and all members of the cabinet and the other is his power to proclaim martial law as commander-in-chief of the army.

Next to the unification of his people this is von Hindenburg's source of satisfaction.

TELE OF QUAKE EXPERIENCES
New Castle, March 26.

Editor News:

The writer of this letter, from which quote, is well known to many friends and relatives in New Castle, and we are being asked to those we meet. "What News from the Middlelands?" We thought it not out of place to send in a copy of extracts from our sister's letter just received.

Dear Brother: I just put off writing, thinking every day the quakes would be over. I know I should have let you know before that we were all safe and sound, but the old adage "No news is good news," makes no provision for me. I am sure you will have read the accounts in the paper. No doubt they will exaggerate some, but the truth is bad enough.

Only one accident here, in Santa Ana, and two strangers were killed. Seems marvelous, when we think of what might have been. Almost all the fatalities were caused by rushing out and falling bricks struck them. In all the cities I think that was true. A few were buried, and many autos were crushed as they stood on streets. We had gone the day before to see the parade of the "Fleet," at San Pedro. (12 naval vessels and 243 airplanes passed in review. A big show but expensive.) Got caught in a traffic jam on the way home. At one time on Anaheim Blvd., in Long Beach, there were four lines of cars for ten or twelve miles solid. At 6:00 p. m. the next day, at the same time and place, not a building was standing intact! What a tragedy it would have been, had it come the day before! As it was, the schools were not in session, and at 6 o'clock the streets as free as at any other time in the 24 hours.

Long Beach was the worst hit. Santa Ana is on the margin of the triangular area hit. Orange being outside, escaped entirely. Many times before we thought we felt a slight tremor, but when the real thing comes, we have no doubts.

Scott and I were listening to the "Inaugural Program," on the radio when the first shock came. We felt as though an immense battering-ram had struck the house. We tried to rise, and were knocked down a time or two. I managed to reach the front door, the door coming up to meet me, by holding on to chairs and door sides. I got out and looked to see the house collapse, but it only rocked for three minutes and still stood. Then we went back in, expecting to see everything loose and smashed. Not a thing down! Not a window broken or a dish! Not even a light globe broken! Minor shakes followed every 5 minutes or so an hour. We ran out from force of habit. No damage was done to us physically nor to property. One story stucco houses stood the best, like most in our part of town.

Chimneys fell or cracked so that they had to be lowered for safety in north part of town. 9 out of 10 are down. The business area suffered worst, as nearly all brick buildings did. All the schools and nearly every church but ours. It is stucco. The U. P. church is also stucco but is severely cracked. Union services were held in park on Sabbath morning and may be again, till people get over the terror of it. The business district was under martial law for 4 days. Legion and National Guard on patrol. Most all rubbish cleared up now, and stores open for business.

Our men hope to get in on some of the reconstruction work. Many buildings will have to be torn down. Court house, city hall, new Masonic Temple (built last year), Elks hall, Y. M. C. A. Library and several banks are damaged.

The man who bought the eight apartment building from Scott told him yesterday, "well, Scott you know how to put up a building." The apartment never showed a crack or lost a brick. After this an engineer's O. K. will be required of every building contractor. Same in Long Beach. Many old faulty structures caused the greatest damage. Many easterners say the experience is not so bad yet as a cyclone or tornado. I am sure no one enjoyed this. We hope we may never have another. The shakes have continued at longer intervals and lighter each time. Have had none since yesterday (March 15, noon). But they just kept us reminded of what we might have had. A light rain fell last night, but the sun is bright this morning.

For twelve hours before the quake came, there was such an ominous stillness and a peculiar gray haze, Ralph remarked to a neighbor, "It surely is earthquake weather." (We had been through one in 1917.) He said also, "Something is going to happen." Of course we did not hear him and it came so suddenly. Excuse my shaky hand.

Uses Soap Kettle To Store Coins

(International News Service)

NEW BLOOMFIELD, Pa., Mar. 26.—Seventy silver dollars were found in a vessel containing home-made soap when the household effects of the late Mrs. Margaret Gutschall of near Blain, were being prepared for a recent sale.

Mrs. Gutschall had effected a secure hiding place for her money when she wrapped each coin in paper, placed them in the bottom of the vessel and poured in the hot soap.

GIVEN APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 27.—Appointment of Jesse Weaver Hubbs of McKees Rocks as an officer in the organized reserves of the regular army is announced by the department of war.

Mr. Hubbs, whose address is listed as 925 Russellwood avenue, has been commissioned a first lieutenant in the infantry reserves.

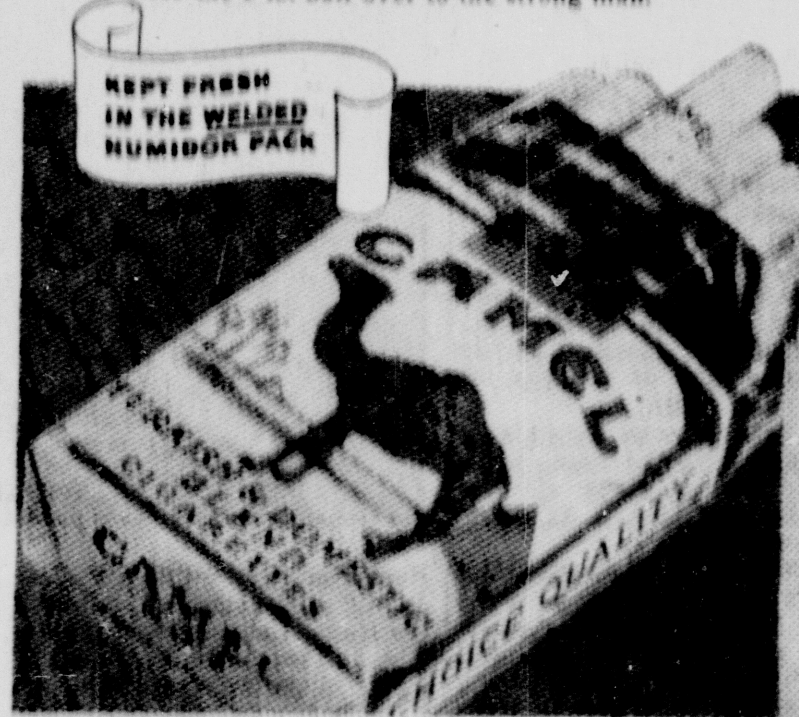

ILLUSION!

A "strong man" once gave public performances in which he stopped a 9 lb. cannon ball shot from a fully charged cannon. The audience gasped when the gun flashed and the human Gibraltar stepped forward out of the smoke unharmed, with the 9 lb. shot in his hands.

EXPLANATION:

The trick lay in the way an assistant prepared the cannon for the performance. He used the regulation amount of powder and wadding, but placed the greater part of the charge of powder ahead of the shot. The cannon ball was propelled only by the small charge behind it which was just sufficient to lob the 9 lb. ball over to the strong man.

TOBACCOS
IN A MATCHLESS BLEND

It's fun to be fooled —
...it's more fun to KNOW

A performance sometimes staged in cigarette advertising is the illusion that cigarettes are made easy on the throat by some special process of manufacture.

EXPLANATION: All cigarettes are made in almost exactly the same way. Manufacturing methods are standard and used by all. A cigarette is only as good as the tobacco it contains.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

In costly tobaccos you will find mildness, good taste, throat-ease.

Smoke Camels critically, and give your taste a chance to appreciate the greater pleasure and satisfaction offered by the more expensive tobaccos. Other cigarettes, we believe, will taste flat and insipid to you forever after.

HOW MRS. ROOSEVELT HAS ALTERED WHITE HOUSE

This exclusive second floor plan, sketched from descriptions by a Central Press artist, shows how the Roosevelts live. Servants' quarters and extra bedrooms comprise the third floor.

Von Hindenburg Is Satisfied To Take Back Seat

Former German War Lord And President Hopes To Find Peace And Rest

THINKS HITLER "MAN OF HOUR"

Has Longed For Retired Life For Many Years, Still Holds Powerful Grip

By WALTER DUNFORD, International News Service Staff Correspondent

MUNICH, Mar. 27.—(AP)—The most of the supreme power to Chancellor Adolf Hitler today brought a feeling of vast relief and freedom.

Approaching the end of his last year, after 14 years of almost unbroken rule, the aged statesman has accepted the transfer of his political responsibilities to the new leader with calm resignation.

Hitler and Goebbels

"How I can find rest and peace," he repeated, "that should call me."

President Von Hindenburg's calm acceptance of the new leadership, International News Service learned from sources close to him, is comparable to his long-continued lack of interest in the German people has at least been relieved.

He is deeply impressed by the patience and determination shown by millions of Germans in celebration of the new leadership change. He seems to have a sense of the old German spirit of conservatism and duty. With the ease of acceptance in the shoulders of a man just half his age, President Von Hindenburg is now content to spend his hours sitting in an armchair, smoking his pipe and listening to the news of the world.

Never Wanted Office
Von Hindenburg never wanted to be president of the Reich. When the war ended he was ready to retire to private life—to live in peace and seclusion on his estate in East Prussia.

But the late Admiral Von Tirpitz pleaded with him to take the office. "You are the only man," Von Tirpitz said, "who can bring Germany to its feet."

Von Hindenburg now feels that this mission has been reached. He is satisfied to retire contentedly to his estate in East Prussia, where he once lived as "just good enough for good government."

A performance sometimes staged in cigarette advertising is the illusion that cigarettes are made easy on the throat by some special process of manufacture.

EXPLANATION: All cigarettes are made in almost exactly the same way. Manufacturing methods are standard and used by all. A cigarette is only as good as the tobacco it contains.

It is a fact, well known by leaf tobacco experts, that Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobacco than any other popular brand.

In costly tobacco you will find mildness, good taste, throat-ene. Smoke Camels critically, and give your taste a chance to appreciate the greater pleasure and satisfaction offered by the more expensive tobacco. Other cigarettes, we believe, will taste flat and insipid to you forever after.

Hitler Is Planning Drastic Measures To Stem Tide Of 'Anti-German Propaganda'

(International News Service)
BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, Mar. 27.—Drastic measures to stem the tide of "anti-German propaganda" with regard to alleged mistreatment of Jews were weighed by Chancellor Adolf Hitler today.

In the conclusion of his tiny mountain cottage in the Bavarian Alps near here, the Nazi dictator drew up plans to curb "untrue stories of Jewish massacres emanating from obscure sources."

Abandoning his original plans to spend at least another day in absolute rest and repose before launching into his self-appointed four year task of German "rehabilitation," Chancellor Hitler summoned Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, his minister of propaganda, to the mountain retreat.

Hitler and Goebbels discussed at great length the foreign reaction to reports of Jewish persecution in this country, with particular emphasis on the nationwide protest meetings scheduled for today and tonight in the United States.

There was every indication that the chancellor decided to "fight fire with fire."

A reliable spokesman informed International News Service that unless "Jewish anti-German propaganda" in Great Britain and the United States is abandoned, the German government will take no steps to oppose a "counter-offensive" against Jewish propagandists which Hitler believes is inevitable.

As the spokesman put it, the government will take "an indifferent attitude toward a spontaneous German counter-offensive against the unfounded atrocity campaign."

HAMBURG, Germany, Mar. 27.—The newspaper Nachrichten today offered 2,000 marks to any one able to prove that a single Jew had been executed or murdered in Hamburg in connection with the Nazi-dominated "awakening of Germany." The offer was made in a further effort to combat outside reports of anti-Jewish pogroms.

BERLIN, Mar. 27.—With Germany welded into a single centralized state, the dictatorship government of Chancellor Adolf Hitler settled down today to the task of reviving pre-war prosperity in the Reich by means of rigid economy. While Hitler still remained near Munich, the cabinet began discussion of a drastic economy program aimed at balancing Germany's budget.

It was expected, however, that Hitler would prolong the present budget for three months, beginning April 1.

The Prussian government, meanwhile, organized 13 special courts to deal with high treason verdicts, which cannot be appealed.

MUNICH, Mar. 27.—Acting on the decision of Chancellor Adolf Hitler to "fight fire with fire," the Nazi party is preparing to launch a definite anti-Jewish campaign "unless the criminal and treasonable propaganda of Jews in foreign countries ceases," it was reported today.

The campaign would be designed at calling attention of the whole

German people to the Jewish problem and would include a sweeping boycott of Jewish stores and other similar measures, the reports said.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—Secretary of State Hull today was "greatly relieved" at the official report from the American embassy in Berlin that mistreatment of Jews in Germany had abated and the Hitler regime was doing its best to curb further persecution.

The report, received at the state department over the week end, said physical mistreatment of Jews "may be considered virtually terminated."

Secretary Hull immediately sent this reassuring information to leading American Jews and Jewish organizations who had complained of the alleged persecution of their religious brethren under Hitlerism.

Kidnaped Boy Returned Home

Masury Lad Is Back After 8 Days In Hands Of Kidnapers

WARREN, O., Mar. 27.—After eight days in the hands of kidnapers who threatened him with death, if he attempted to escape, 15-year-old Peter Meyers, Jr., of Masury, near here, was restored unharmed to his father early Sunday.

Blindfolded, the father was driven in his own automobile for several hours Saturday night by a man he refused to identify to a lonely country road between Akron and Youngstown. There, in the darkness of early morning, the boy, also blindfolded, was brought in another automobile and delivered to him.

The elder Meyers, who operates the Gray Wolf Tavern near Sharon, Pa., on the Ohio side of the line, told Sheriff Roy S. Hardman of Trumbull county he paid $300 ransom.

Federal authorities investigating the case said, however, they doubted some of the details of Meyers' description of the boy's return, and expressed the opinion he was shielding the kidnapers in fear of further violence against his family.

Father Shields Is Preacher At Mission Service

Two Weeks Mission Opens At St. Mary's Church With Capacity Congregation

Mission conducted by Rev. Fr. Geoffrey Stone, C. S. S. R., and Rev. Fr. Francis Shields, C. S. S. R., of the Redemptorist Fathers, and to be in progress for the next two weeks in St. Mary's parish church, North Beaver and North streets, opened last evening at 7:45 o'clock with a congregation made up of women that filled the church to capacity. All services of the mission during the present week will be conducted for women.

Rev. Fr. Shields was the preacher of the service last evening and his topic was "Salvation." He delivered a powerful discourse in which he dealt with the manner of saving souls, which have been given to sin through their contact with the world.

This evening at 7:45 o'clock Rev. Fr. Shields will again be the principal preacher and will have as his topic "Mortal Sin." In this discourse he will show how this is the most deadly sin of all, being an offense directly against God. He will tell of the circumstances of the soul that has followed the ways of God in contrast with the soul that is following the devil and the ways of the world.

Two special masses at 6 and 8:30 o'clock this morning were very largely attended.

Princeton Youth Is Recovering

Hospital Reports Elmer Harlan Is Much Improved Today

Elmer Harlan, 19, of Princeton seems to have won his fight with death. Today his temperature is normal, pulse and respiration about normal, and he shows every indication of being on the road to recovery. He has been in the Jameson Memorial hospital six days during which time he has been operated upon for a ruptured bowel caused by being gored by a bull, had peritonitis and then pneumonia.

On Tuesday morning March 21 he was working in his father's barn not knowing that a huge Guernsey bull was loose. The bull charged him from the rear and Harlan was hurled to the ground. Tuesday night he suffered excruciating pain and a physician was called who diagnosed the case as a ruptured bowel.

By the time he got to the operating table peritonitis had developed and shortly after that pneumonia set in. As a last resort an oxygen tent was set up and he was put into it. This seems to be the one big reason why he is recovering.

The remainder of the day was spent in a pleasant manner with music and reminiscences of former days by Mr. and Mrs. Stamm.

Children of this union are Mrs. W. D. Strain of Bridgeville, Mrs. A. R. Kaufman of Liberty, Normal and Ferd Stamm of Fomell. They have eleven grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Ford Factory Strike Because Of Wage Cuts

(International News Service)

DAGENHAM, Eng., Mar. 27.—Work at the huge Ford automobile factory here, which employs several thousand men, was at a standstill today, the result of a strike protesting against wage cuts.

Complete halting of operations was effected when pickets succeeded in bringing the morning shift of 2,000 employees out of the shops. Manning a strategic bridge leading to the works, the pickets prevented the 6, 8, and 9 a. m. shifts from entering.

A few of the workers who at first held out against joining the strike quickly joined in when threatened with a ducking in a nearby lake.

Says Tax Rate Can't Be Raised To Provide For Tax Delinquencies

SHARON, Pa., Mar. 27.—Tax levying bodies have no authority to fix millage with a large allowance for uncollected taxes, according to an opinion by Judge J. A. McLaughry. He restrained council from collecting the 1933 assessment of 14 mills, and ordered a new rate. The opinion was delivered in an equity suit brought by the Sharon Real Estate Owners' Association in which it was claimed that 8 mills would run the city. Judge McLaughry says the presumption of law is that all taxes will be collected and that, therefore, a levy cannot be fixed upon the presumption to the contrary. He upheld the contention of the Real Estate Owners' Association that it is inequitable to burden the person who pays their tax because of the delinquency of others who do not.

Be Found In List
Of Names

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Mar. 27.—Five hundred women whose names appeared on a list as patrons of the two beauty shops owned by Frank Interlande 33, affluent young bachelor, were being rounded up today as police sought a solution to the "ride" murder of Interlande.

Interlande's body, shot through the head, was found in a roadside ditch. In his pockets were found lists containing 500 names, presumably of women patrons of his beauty parlors.

After examining the lengthy list of women, police decided that somewhere in that catalog of names may be found a clue to Interlande's killers. According to his sister, Mary Interlande, he had set out for a party Saturday night.

That was the last any of his associates saw of him.

Hitler Is Planning Drastic Measures To Stem Tide Of 'Anti-German Propaganda'

(International News Service)
BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, Mar. 27.—Drastic measures to stem the tide of "anti-German propaganda" with regard to alleged mistreatment of Jews were weighed by Chancellor Adolf Hitler today.

In the conclusion of his tiny mountain cottage in the Bavarian Alps near here, the Nazi dictator drew up plans to curb "untrue stories of Jewish massacres emanating from obscure sources."

Abandoning his original plans to spend at least another day in absolute rest and repose before launching into his self-appointed four year task of German "rehabilitation," Chancellor Hitler summoned Dr. Paul Joseph Goebbels, his minister of propaganda, to the mountain retreat.

Hitler and Goebbels discussed at great length the foreign reaction to reports of Jewish persecution in this country, with particular emphasis on the nationwide protest meetings scheduled for today and tonight in the United States.

There was every indication that the chancellor decided to "fight fire with fire."

A reliable spokesman informed International News Service that unless "Jewish anti-German propaganda" in Great Britain and the United States is abandoned, the German government will take no steps to oppose a "counter-offensive" against Jewish propagandists which Hitler believes is inevitable.

As the spokesman put it, the government will take "an indifferent attitude toward a spontaneous German counter-offensive against the unfounded atrocity campaign."

HAMBURG, Germany, Mar. 27.—The newspaper Nachrichten today offered 2,000 marks to any one able to prove that a single Jew had been executed or murdered in Hamburg in connection with the Nazi-dominated "awakening of Germany."

The offer was made in a further effort to combat outside reports of anti-Jewish pogroms.

BERLIN, Mar. 27.—With Germany welded into a single centralized state, the dictatorship government of Chancellor Adolf Hitler settled down today to the task of reviving pre-war prosperity in the Reich by means of rigid economy.

While Hitler still remained away from Berlin in a retreat near Munich, the cabinet began discussion of a drastic economy program aimed at balancing Germany's budget.

It was expected, however, that Hitler would prolong the present budget for three months, beginning April 1.

The Prussian government, meanwhile, organized 13 special courts to deal with high treason verdicts, which cannot be appealed.

MUNICH, Mar. 27.—Acting on the decision of Chancellor Adolf Hitler to "fight fire with fire," the Nazi party is preparing to launch a drastic anti-Jewish campaign "unless the chimerical and irresponsible propaganda of Jews in foreign countries ceases," it was reported today.

The campaign would be designed at calling attention of the whole

German people to the Jewish problem and would include a sweeping boycott of Jewish stores and other similar measures, the reports said.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—Secretary of State Hull today was "greatly relieved" at the official report from the American embassy in Berlin that mistreatment of Jews in Germany had abated and the Hitler regime was doing its best to curb further persecution.

The report, received at the state department over the week end, said physical mistreatment of Jews "may be considered virtually terminated."

Secretary Hull immediately sent this reassuring information to leading American Jews and Jewish organizations who had complained of the alleged persecution of their religious brethren under Hitlerism.

Kidnaped Boy Returned Home

Masury Lad Is Back After 8 Days In Hands Of Kidnapers

WARREN, O., Mar. 27.—After eight days in the hands of kidnapers who threatened him with death if he attempted to escape, 15-year-old Peter Meyers, Jr., of Masury, near here, was restored unharmed to his father early Sunday.

Stranded, the father was driven in his own automobile for several hours Saturday night by a man he refused to identify to a lonely country road between Akron and Youngstown. There, in the darkness of early morning, the boy, also blindfolded, was brought in another automobile and delivered to him.

The elder Meyers, who operates the Gray Wolf Tavern near Sharon, Pa., on the Ohio side of the line, told Sheriff Roy S. Hardman of Trumbull county he paid $300 ransom.

Federal authorities investigating the case said, however, they doubted some of the details of Meyers' description of the boy's return, and expressed the opinion he was shielding the kidnapers in fear of further violence against his family.

Father Shields Is Preacher At Mission Service

Two Weeks Mission Opens At St. Mary's Church With Capacity Congregation

Mission conducted by Rev. Fr. Geoffrey Stone, S. S. F., and Rev. Fr. Francis Shields, O. S. B., of the Redemptorist Fathers, and to be in progress for the next two weeks in St. Mary's parish church, North Beaver and North streets, opened last evening at 7:45 o'clock with a congregation made up of women that filled the church to capacity. All services of the mission during the present week will be conducted for women.

Rev. Fr. Shields was the preacher of the service last evening and his topic was "Salvation." He delivered a powerful discourse in which he dealt with the manner of saving souls, which have been given to sin through their contact with the things of the world.

This evening at 7:45 o'clock Rev. Fr. Shields will again be the principal preacher and will have as his topic "Mortal Sin." In this discourse he will show how this is the most deadly sin of all, being an offense directly against God. He will tell of the circumstances of the soul that has followed the ways of God in contrast with the soul that is following the devil and the ways of the world.

Two special masses at 6 and 8:30 o'clock this morning were very largely attended.

Princeton Youth Is Recovering

Hospital Reports Elmer Harlan Is Much Improved Today

Elmer Harlan, 19, of Princeton seems to have won his fight with death. Today his temperature is normal, pulse and respiration about normal, and he shows every indication of being on the road to recovery. He has been in the James Memorial hospital six days during which time he has been operated upon for a ruptured bowel caused by being gored by a bull, had peritonitis and then pneumonia.

On Tuesday morning March 21 he was working in his father's barn not knowing that a huge Guernsey bull was loose. The bull charged him from the rear and Harlan was buckled to the ground. Tuesday night he suffered excruciating pain and a physician was called who diagnosed the case as a ruptured bowel.

By the time he got to the operating table peritonitis had developed and shortly after that pneumonia set in. As a last resort an oxygen tent was set up and he was put into it. This seems to be the one big reason why he is recovering.

PYMATUNING DAM PREVENTED BIG FLOOD HERE

Great Volume Of Water Held Back By Gigantic Dam

Incomplete Dam Held Back Flood Waters At Head Of Shenango

WATER AT DAM 13 FEET DEEP

(Special To The News) — HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—How the Pymatuning reservoir in Crawford county, now nearing completion by the Commonwealth, has already proved its usefulness was revealed today by Chairman Lewis E. Staley of the State Water and Power Resources Board. During the recent period of abnormal rainfall with resultant high waters over the Ohio watershed, the Pymatuning Dam, though not entirely finished, prevented a possibly destructive flood in the Shenango Valley.

The flow of water, which ordinarily would have run off immediately following the rains, was stored by the dam to a depth of 13 feet. Engineers in the water service of the Department of Forests and Waters estimate that the retardation as a result of this storage amounted to about three billion gallons.

Because of the reduced flow of the Shenango River at the dam to about 20 per cent of the quantity of water that would have been released before the dam was built, no flood damage was suffered in Sharon, New Castle, and other cities and towns in the Shenango Valley.

Pending the installation of gates in the gatehouse the Shenango River is being carried through a huge double barreled conduit. These openings restrict the flood waters of the river and store the excess flow in the 16,000-acre reservoir. State engineers who recently inspected the project during and following the heavy rains of the past week, expressed their satisfaction with the way in which the dam, even though uncompleted, functions as a dry water reservoir for the control of floods.

NAME SCOUTING'S AIDES AT SESSION

Boy Scout Executive Board Hears New Committee List For Year

A well-attended meeting of the executive board of the Lawrence County Boy Scout Council, held on Saturday afternoon, was the medium for handling a number of important matters in county scouting. Council President L. B. Round presided as chairman ex-officio, and Burgess Judd C. Turner of Ellwood City, district chairman of that district, was also on hand representing the southern section of the county. He brought the list of committee appointments made at the Ellwood district meeting on Friday.

The chairman briefly outlined the duties of council committees generally, naming committee chairmen as follows: troop organization, Rex Patch; leader training, R. L. Boyd; camping, W. Ayres; reading, Rev. A. M. Stump; court of honor, Rev. G. S. Bennett; seascouting, William

Toner; publicity, Charles Metzler; health and safety, Bernard Hook; activities, Commissioner Davis ex-officio, with finance chairman to be appointed. Men named by District Chairman Turner automatically become members of these county committees.

Discuss Summer Camp

Camping came in for its share of discussion, and a special committee consisting of Messrs. Davis, Hook, (with an Ellwood member to be named), the executive and field executive was named to assist the regular camping committee in planning for the troop plan of camping this coming season. It was understood that Camp Phillips will be run on this troop camp plan during June and July, with troop leaders taking training as they can to fit themselves for the leadership of their troops.

Another important matter brought up was the fact that a number of troops have had to handle groups of younger boys who would come to regular scout meetings simply to take part in the program of activities and games. Cubbing, the official younger boy program of the Boy Scout movement, is a thoroughly-planned, well-led movement which at the present time has a national membership of over 100,000. The Lawrence county council has not promoted this to date because council leaders wanted to feel very sure there was a real need for it. The experiences of several troops recently has shown this, so the board went on record as favoring the organization of this work and its promotion in centers that show they can handle it efficiently. Mr. Round (having appointive power as council president) then named C. A. Bolen, plant superintendent of the Bell Telephone company here, as chairman of the Cubbing section of the council work. Mr. Bolen, a council member at large, has for some time been interested in the possibilities of Cubbing. The Kiwanis club of New Castle has also offered some very real help in furthering the organization of this work, and its generous offer was accepted with thanks.

The First Aid meet, scheduled at first for this coming Friday evening, has been set ahead to Friday, April 21 at the senior high school gymnasium.

Political Lines Are Being Drawn In Pension Fight

State Democratic Chairman Throws Support Of Organization Behind Pension Bill

URGES DEMOCRATS TO LEND SUPPORT

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—Political battle lines were drawn tighter today as Warren Van Dyke, state Democratic chairman, threw his support behind the move to bring old age pension legislation to the house floor for immediate consideration.

Citing the Democratic state platform of 1930, which advocated old age pensions, Van Dyke urged every Democratic representative to support the Sowers resolution tomorrow for discharge of the house committee from consideration of constitutional amendments providing for the pension laws.

Grave Abuses.

"Why it is necessary to amend the constitution of Pennsylvania to pension the taxpayer is something I cannot understand," Van Dyke asserted. "In Pennsylvania, we pension judges, state officials and employees and school employees without authority of constitutional amendment."

Van Dyke also charged that "grave abuses have crept into our retirement system for judges, state officials and employees," he suggested that "while the legislature is on the subject of pensions it might inquire into these abuses with profitable results to the taxpayers."

New Opposition For Farm Relief

Agricultural Relief Bill Hearings Resumed By Senate Committee

BELIEVE BILL IS UNETHICAL

(International News Service) — WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—President Roosevelt's agricultural relief bill, proposing to add $800,000,000 a year to the income of American farmers, ran into fresh opposition today as the senate agriculture committee resumed public hearings on the plan already approved by the house.

Eastern business interests, grain dealers from the Middle West and various farm organizations were fighting its broad grant of power to the president to allot production in all the major farm products. The allotment provisions were denounced not only as unconstitutional, as conferring dictatorial powers on the president but as certain to increase the cost of living to the same extent they benefit the farmer.

Ford Employees In England Are Out On Strike

Several Thousand Employees Of
Ford Factory Strike Because Of Wage Cuts

(International News Service) DAGENHAM, Eng., Mar. 27.—Work at the huge Ford automobile factory here, which employs several thousand men, was at a standstill today, the result of a strike protesting against wage cuts.

Complete halting of operations was effected when pickets succeeded in bringing the morning shift of 3,000 employees out of the shops.

Manning a strategic bridge leading to the works, the pickets prevented the 6, 8, and 9 a. m. shifts from entering.

A few of the workers who at first held out against joining the strike quickly joined in when threatened with a ducking in a nearby lake.

Says Tax Rate Can't Be Raised To Provide For Tax Delinquencies

SHARON, Pa., Mar. 27.—Tax levying bodies have no authority to fix millage with a large allowance for uncollected taxes, according to an opinion by Judge J. A. McLaughry. He restrained council from collecting the 1933 assessment of 14 mills, and ordered a new rate. The opinion was delivered in an equity suit brought by the Sharon Real Estate Owners' Association in which it was claimed that 8 mills would run the city.

Be Found In List
Of Names

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Mar. 27.—Five hundred women whose names appeared on a list as patrons of the two beauty shops owned by Frank Interlande 33, affluent young bachelor, were being rounded up today as police sought a solution to the "ride" murder of Interlande.

Interlande's body, shot through the head, was found in a roadside ditch. In his pockets were found lists containing 500 names, presumably of women patrons of his beauty parlors.

After examining the lengthy list of women, police decided that somewhere in that catalog of names may be found a clue to Interlande's killers. According to his sister, Mary Interlande, he had set out for a party Saturday night.

That was the last any of his associates saw of him.

Foxx Will Try To Break Mark For Home Runs

Jimmy Foxx, Philadelphia Athletics, Hopes To Break Ruth's Record Of 60

By ROBERT T. PAUL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

FORT MYERS, Fla., Mar. 27.—Jimmy Foxx, mighty slugger of the Philadelphia Athletics, is destined to better Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in the opinion of Connie Mack, 70-year-old boss of the 25-year-old first sacker. It is merely a matter of time, says Connie, until Foxx eclipses the big Bambino's mark.

"I see no reason why Foxx won't hit more than sixty homers in one season," said Mack today. "Sooner or later he'll beat Ruth's record. I believe he'll do it this season. If not this year then certainly in 1934."

Natural Hitter
"Jimmy is a natural long distance hitter. There's something about the movement of his wrist as he completes his swing that gives his hits such extra distance. He doesn't hit the ball harder than other players, but he puts something into his follow through that others don't."
"I feel that Jimmy should have broken Ruth's record last year. He didn't try for homers. He wanted to win the individual batting championship. He didn't swing naturally, but was choking his bat and trying for singles. If he had swung the last month as he had all year he would have knocked out more than sixty homers. As it was, he only failed by two."

Robertson Named As Geneva Coach

Former Carnegie Tech Star Named To Succeed Howard Harpster

TECH SYSTEM TO REMAIN IN FORCE

(International News Service)

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Mar. 27.—Jimmy Robertson, former Carnegie Tech backfield ace, has been chosen to succeed Howard Harpster as head football coach at Geneva college.

He is to sign a one-year contract today, and will take hold of the reins within a short time to prepare for spring training.

Selection of Robertson was confirmed in a telephone interview with A. C. Edgcombe after it had become known that the college athletic board decided to proffer the post to the ex-Tartan in a special meeting last Saturday.

The decision of the athletic board to retain the Carnegie system of grid tutoring coincides with the opinion of sports observers that the Covenanter institution would continue football operations along the principles which brought pleasing results during the three-year regime of Harpster. Robertson was one of more than a score of candidates for the job.

While at Carnegie, Robertson, a Pittsburgher, competed in track, baseball and basketball in addition to football. After playing pro football for a short time, he succeeded Harpster as coach at Shady Side Academy when the latter moved to Geneva. His grid work last fall was in scouting Pitt for Army.

Give Burns Decision

Louie Severio Wins From Keno In Fourth Over Louisville Boy

Fight fans had their lust for fight fully appeased November 4, 1929, when Johnny Burns of Oakland, Calif., and Henry Firpo of Louisville, battered through 10 rounds. Judges Fox and Faella gave the decision to Burns at the end of the fast going. Referee Eddie Kennedy's slip showed a vote for Firpo but it wasn't needed as the unanimity of the judges gave the Californian the scrap.

Going into the fifth Burns hit Firpo with a short right uppercut on the jaw. It drove Firpo into the ropes a few seconds just before the round ended. However, this failed to take the edge away from Henry who had had a shade on Burns for half of the journey.

Johnny got his left to the face working good. Aided and abetted with his right uppercut to the chin he showed a vast improvement over his fighting in the early rounds in the seventh. They slugged viciously in the eighth.

Schmeling Thinks Jack Dempsey Best Of Big Promoters

By WALTER DIETZEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Mar. 27.—"I know that the time of million dollar purses and several-million-dollar gates is gone forever."

Max Schmeling, ex-champion and heavyweight contender, told the interviewer when asked what he thought of future business conditions in prize fighting.

"But I still hold that a clever promoter can do very much in attracting the fans. There aren't any great promoters left since Tex Rickard died. Naturally, Jack Dempsey, the old Manassa mauler, always is a trump. But a promoter does not only promote, he must have money himself, and quite a lot, before he can become a success."

Schmeling then revealed that the grudge Joe Jacobs and he bear the Madison Square Garden is not so much directed against the Garden itself as against Johnston, the promoter.

Johnston Incompetent
"Johnston is entirely incompetent, and if the Garden would only get rid of him it would be all the better for the Garden and for us." Discussing his chances for the next heavyweight championship, Max said:

"If I defeat Baer, which I am sure I will, I shall have to fight Sharkey again. There is nobody else left. In that case we shall have the promoters running after us; for everybody will start a scramble to capture the bout for himself. If, by that time, the depression is definitely over, I foresee record gates and purses."

The conversation then turned to the latest biography of Schmeling, by Rolf Nuernberg, a German sports writer. Schmeling was very indignant at the charges Nuernberg raised against Sharkey, American boxing officials in general and American sports writers.

"Nuernberg has always been fighting me," Schmeling remarked. "He is one of those sports writers who is always crabbing, always smelling a rat and always opposing everybody. Nuernberg has been treated with the utmost courtesy of the United States. It is rather nasty of him to write that way."

"I have not read his biography and I do not intend to do so, because I do not value his opinions. I do not care what he says, writes or believes. That settles the matter for me."

Brooklyn Dodgers Will Be Strong Is Outlook For 1933

By MAX KASE
International News Service Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla., March 27.—In 1932 the Dodgers came up to the starting line with a gaping hole at first and a creaking mound staff. Yet they finished third and for a time dominated the race.

This season Max Carey has Joe Judge to plug the first base hole. He has revamped his hill corps by a series of mid-winter maneuvers. Dazzy Vance passed on to St. Louis and Max has added Ray Benge and Ownie Carroll through trades and Walter Beck and Ray Lucas, promising youngsters, by purchase.

Pitching will dictate Brooklyn performances this year. The staff is being built around the slender William Watson Clark, whose 20 victories stamped him the best lefthander in the league in 1932. Van Mungo, Beck, Benge and Carroll comprise the remainder of Carey's tentative starting staff, an equal balance of experience and youth.

Good Relief Hurlers
Then Carey has Babe Phelps, working hard for a comeback; Fred Heimach and Joe Shaute, lefthanders, and Hollis Thurston. Jack Quinn is still around for relief purposes with his splitter.

The infield is one of the best in the league if Glenn Wright holds up at short. Judge is one of the greatest fielding first basemen in the history of baseball. He claims his legs have entirely recovered from their failings of last year. Cuccinello, at second, is a steady, reliable worker and the best double play pivot man in the league. Stripp, third baseman, is still unsigned, but Carey has a capable understudy in Jake Flowers.

The outfield has explosive hitting power, but is a weak fielding unit and lacks speed. It is composed of Lefty O'Doul, baseball's best hitter last year; Hack Wilson, Danny Taylor and Johnny Frederick, who say a record for pinch hit home runs in 1932.

Grand National Victor

Here is a fine action picture of "Kellsboro Jack," the sturdy jumper owned by Mrs. F. Ambrose Clark, of New York, who carried American colors to victory in the English Grand National at Aintree, Liverpool. This is the first American-owned horse to take premier honors in the great classic since 1926. He started at odds of 40-1. "Really True" ran second, and "Slater" third.

Basketball Queen

Miss Sybil Stumph, star 20-year-old guard of the Jacksonville, Fla., Shamrocks, is voted queen of the National A. A. U. basketball tournament for girls in Wichita, Kas. Votes of spectators each year decide the ruling beauty star. Sybil was picked from among 300 others.

Heuser-Ebbetts To Fight Friday

Adolph Heuser Of Germany Will Fight Harry Ebbetts In New York City

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—Maybe the management has been meditating very deeply, as is its wont, and hasn't heard of Hitler. Maybe it thinks all of those people marched down to city hall the other day because the doctor said something about a long walk in the bracing air. Anyhow, the boys are telling the story around town of the young couple, recently betrothed. They wanted to be alone, so they picked next Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

For purposes of further identification that's the night Adolph Heuser of Germany is to meet Harry Ebbetts, who sound like a German-American, in the main bout, supported by another fight featuring Hans Birkle of Germany. For purposes of added clarity, this is the town that operates its professional sports pretty much on the good-will and sympathy of the Jewish population.

As a crowd-gatherer, therefore, during a rather sensitive situation, this method is known as the phonus bolonus, or doing it the hard way, and I suspect that a lot of people are liable to enter into the spirit of the thing by staying away in a body. There has been no talk so far of a boycott and very probably there will be none. It isn't that kind of a fight, whereas it could very well happen that Herr Schmeling will come over here to find himself rather pointedly disdained by the ready-to-wear garment men who do a lot of significant buying in ringside lines.

Falcons To Play Warren Quintet

Polish Falcons basketball team will play the strong London A. C. team of Warren, O., tonight at the Polish Falcon hall on Miller avenue at 8 o'clock. The preliminary game will bring together the Yellow Jacks of New Castle and the K-nolds of Warren, O., one of the best girl teams in eastern Ohio.

The Falcons under Steve Volesko hope to take the measure of the fast Warrenites tonight.

Kearns May Appear On Schmeling Card

Jack Kearns, heavyweight in the stable of Bob Latera, may appear in a Pittsburgh ring the same night Max Schmeling appears in an exhibition bout, with Jack Dempsey as the referee April 10, according to a letter received today by Latera. Kearns is in good condition. Local fans would like to see Kearns in action.

Mt. Jackson Indies Defeat Jeff A. C.

The fast Mt. Jackson Indies basketball team handed the Jeff A. C. of New Castle a lacing 32 to 24 in a game played at the Mt. Jackson High floor. The Indies will go to East Brook Tuesday night for a game with the strong East Brook Athletics. The Indies of Mt. Jackson have had a successful season.

Great Volume Of Water Held Back By Gigantic Dam

Incomplete Dam Held Back Flood Waters At Head Of Shenango

WATER AT DAM 13 FEET DEEP

(Special To The News). HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—How the Pymatuning reservoir in Crawford county, now nearing completion by the Commonwealth, has already proved its usefulness was revealed today by Chairman Lewis E. Staley of the State Water and Power Resources Board. During the recent period of abnormal rainfall with resultant high waters on the Ohio watershed, the Pymatuning Dam, though not entirely finished, prevented a possibly disastrous flood in the Shenango Valley.

The flow of water, which ordinarily would have run off immediately following the rains, was stored by the dam to a depth of 13 feet. Engineers in the water service of the Department of Forests and Waters estimate that the retardation as a result of this storage amounted to about three billion gallons.

Because of the reduced flow of the Shenango River at the dam to about 20 per cent of the quantity of water that would have been released before the dam was built, no flood damage was suffered in Sharon, New Castle, and other cities and towns in the Shenango Valley.

Pending the installation of gates in the gatehouse the Shenango River is being carried through a huge double-barricaded dam. The opening restricts the flood waters of the river and store the excess flow in the 16,000-acre reservoir. State engineers who recently inspected the project during and following the heavy rains of the past week, expressed their satisfaction with the way in which the dam, even though uncompleted, functions as a dry water reservoir for the control of floods.

NAME SCOUTING'S AIDES AT SESSION

Boy Scout Executive Board Hears New Committee List For Year

A well-attended meeting of the executive board of the Lawrence County Boy Scout council, held on Saturday afternoon, was the medium for handling a number of important matters in county scouting. Council President L. B. Round presided as chairman ex-officio, and Burgess Judd C. Turner of Ellwood City, district chairman of that district, was also present representing the southern section of the county. He brought the list of committee appointments made at the Ellwood district meeting on Friday.

The chairman briefly outlined the duties of council committees generally, naming committee chairmen as follows: troop organization, Rex Patch; leader training, R. L. Boyd; camping, W. Ayres; reading, Rev. A. M. Stump; court of honor, Rev. G. S. Bennett; seasouting, William

Toner; publicity, Charles Metzler; health and safety, Bernard Hook; activities, Commissioner Davis ex-officio, with finance chairman to be appointed. Men named by District Chairman Turner automatically become members of these county committees.

Discuss Summer Camp
Camping came in for its share of discussion, and a special committee consisting of Messrs. Davis, Hook, (with an Ellwood member to be named), the executive and field executive was named to assist the regular camping committee in planning for the troop plan of camping this coming season. It was understood that Camp Phillips will be run on this troop camp plan during June and July, with troop leaders taking training as they can, to fit themselves for the leadership of their troops.

Another important matter brought up was the fact that a number of troops have had to handle groups of younger boys who would come to regular scout meetings simply to take part in the program of activities and games. Cubbing, the official younger boy program of the Boy Scout movement, is a thoroughly-planned, well-led movement which at the present time has a national membership of over 100,000. The Lawrence county council has not promoted this to date, because council leaders are so busy with the sure there was a real need for it. The experiences of several troops recently has shown this, so the board went on record as favoring the organization of this work and its promotion in centers that show they can handle it efficiently. Mr. Round (having appointive power as council president) then named C. A. Bollen, plant superintendent of the Bell Telephone company here, as chairman of the Cubbing section of the council work. Mr. Bollen, a council member at large, has for some time been interested in the possibilities of Cubbing. The Kiwanis club of New Castle has also offered some very real help in furthering the organization of this work, and its generous offer was accepted with thanks.

The First Aid meet, scheduled at first for this coming Friday evening, has been set aside for Friday, April 21 at the senior high school gymnasium.

Political Lines Are Being Drawn In Pension Fight

State Democratic Chairman Throws Support Of Organization Behind Pension Bill

URGES DEMOCRATS TO LEND SUPPORT

(International News Service). HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—Political battle lines were drawn tighter today as Warren Van Dyke, state Democratic chairman, threw his support behind the move to bring old age pension legislation to the house floor for immediate consideration.

Citing the Democratic state platform of 1930, which advocated old age pensions, Van Dyke urged every Democratic representative to support the Senate resolution tomorrow for discharge of the house committee from consideration of constitutional amendments providing for the pension laws.

Grave Abuse.
"Why it is necessary to amend the constitution of Pennsylvania to pension the taxpayer is something I cannot understand," Van Dyke asserted. "In Pennsylvania, we pension judges, state officials and employees and school employees without authority of constitutional amendment."

Van Dyke also charged that "grave abuses have crept into our retirement system for judges, state officials and employees." He suggested that "while the legislature is on the subject of pensions it might inquire into those abuses with profitable results to the taxpayers."

New Opposition For Farm Relief

Agricultural Relief Bill Hearings Resumed By Senate Committee

BELIEVE BILL IS UNETHICAL

(International News Service). WASHINGTON, Mar. 27.—President Roosevelt's agricultural relief bill, proposing to add $800,000,000 a year to the income of American farmers, ran into fresh opposition today as the senate agriculture committee resumed public hearings on the plan already approved by the house.

Eastern business interests, grain dealers from the Middle West and various farm organizations were fighting its broad grant of power to the president to allot production of all major farm products. The allotment provisions were denounced not only as unconstitutional, as conferring dictatorial powers on the president but as certain to increase the cost of living to the same extent they benefit the farmer.

Cat Thinks Fire No Reason To Give Up Her Good Home

So Scampers Right Back Into Burning Building After First Rescue

The cat which resides at the Universal Sales Company building, West Cherry street, believed last evening's fire insufficient cause to change her quarters. She was rescued once from the burning building, but scouted right back in.

J. W. Hartwell, who was helping with the removal of a safe from the building, saw Tabby return and, setting down the safe where he stood, went right in after her. This time the stubborn feline was placed in the hands of a boy on the street, who prevented her from further dashes into her home.

BOYS BUILD FORT

The forts of snow built on North Cedar street near the corner of Mahoning avenue on Saturday drew comments from many a trolley car load of spectators. It was quite a frosty accomplishment and might have even drawn praise from a burly eskimo. The forts, facing each other, were huge in height and width and withstood a steady barrage of snowballs. They both met their Waterloo, however, when the rain came in the late afternoon.

Many a snowman was to be seen in various parts of the ward.

(International News Service). LONDON, Mar. 27.—Lieutenant Norman Baillie-Stewart, officer in the Seaforth Highlanders on trial charged with violation of the official secrets act, was absolved of "treacherous intention" by the judge advocate of his court-martial today. Dramatically interrupting the closing address by Norman Parkes, defense counsel, the judge advocate, P. N. Watch Driving While Repairs Are Being Made

State's Spring Program Of Oil-
ing And Repairing Highways About To Start

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 27.—
With the State's Spring road oiling, patching and resurfacing program about to get under way the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, A. A. A., calls attention of drivers to the law that prohibits passing any vehicle proceeding in the same direction on stretches where men are at work.
Early in April thousands of men will be at work all over the state oiling, patching and resurfacing highways, according to the P. M. F., which points out that they should be given every possible safeguard.
The law, enacted by the Legislature in 1931 to protect highway employees, is quoted as follows:—
"The driver of a vehicle shall not overtake and pass, or attempt to pass, any other vehicle, proceeding in the same direction, between any points indicated by the placing of temporary warning or caution signs indicating that men are working on the highway."
And while the motor code does not provide a specific speed for travel through such zones, this, according to the Federation, is covered in the following clause:—
"Every person shall drive at a speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having due regard to the traffic, surface and width of the highway and all other conditions then existing."

Watch Driving While Repairs Are Being Made

State's Spring Program Of Oil-
ing And Repairing High-
ways About To Start

(Special To The News) HARRISBURG, Pa., Mar. 27.—With the State's Spring road oiling, patching and resurfacing program about to get under way the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, A. A. A., calls attention of drivers to the law that prohibits passing any vehicle proceeding in the same direction on stretches where they are at work.

Early in April thousands of men will be at work all over the state oiling, patching and resurfacing highways, according to the P. M. F., which points out that they should be given every possible safeguard. The law, enacted by the Legislature in 1931 to protect highway employees, is quoted as follows:—

"The driver of a vehicle shall not overtake and pass, or attempt to pass, any other vehicle, proceeding in the same direction, between any points indicated by the placing of temporary warning or caution signs indicating that men are working on the highway."

And while the motor code does not provide a specific speed for travel through such zones this, according to the Federation, is covered in the following clause:—

"Every person shall drive at a speed not greater than is reasonable and proper, having due regard to the traffic, surface and width of the highway and all other conditions then existing."

Traveling Gavel Given To Grange

North Beaver Grange Makes Presentation At New Wilmington

North Beaver Grange members on Thursday evening, March 23, motored to New Wilmington, where they attended the meeting of the New Wilmington Grange held in the lecture room of that place.

At this meeting, the North Beaver Grange presented the traveling gavel to the New Wilmington Grange, also presented a short program. The evening's entertainment was in charge of Mr. N. E. Sampson, lecturer for Wilmington Grange, and Mrs. David F. Kyle for the North Beaver Grange.

There were nine granges represented at this meeting, with about 120 people in attendance. The ladies of Wilmington Grange served lunch. On Tuesday evening, March 28, Wilmington Grange will present the Traveling Gavel to Platingrove Grange.

The program presented was as follows: Song, Pennsylvania Grange Song; reading, "A Bottle of Ink"; Susanna Brodbeck; music, Lee McKinley; playlet, "Mrs. Depew Addresses the Grange Meeting," presented by Susanna Brodbeck and Emily Casto; remarks by David F. Kyle on "The Committee Report at State Grange on the State Master's Address; poem, "Don't God Smile on Pennsylvania"; playlet, "Pa Gets Took," presented by Katherine and Lee McKinley, Mrs. Lee Gwin, Kenneth and Birda Bright.

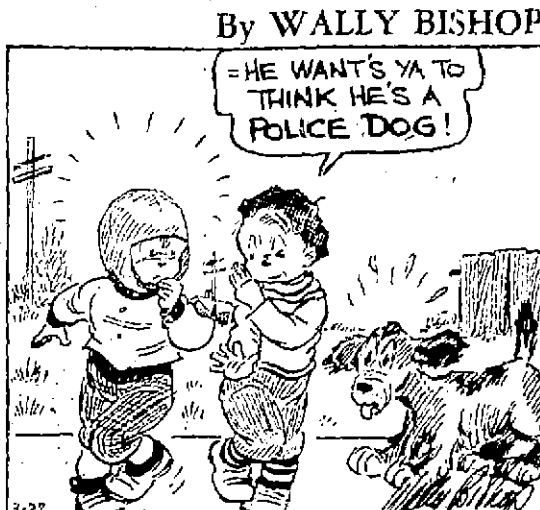

PRINCETON

The sophomore class of Princeton High school gave a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Myers. The evening was spent in music, games and a good social time. Delicious lunch was served later in the evening. There were about 25 present.

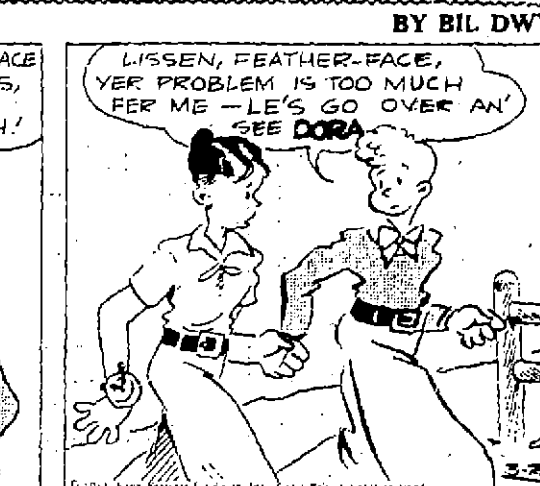

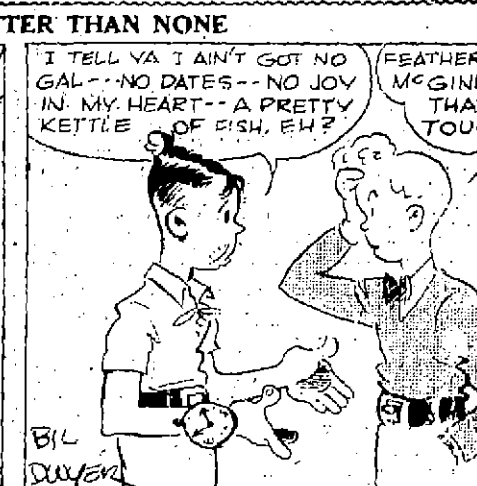

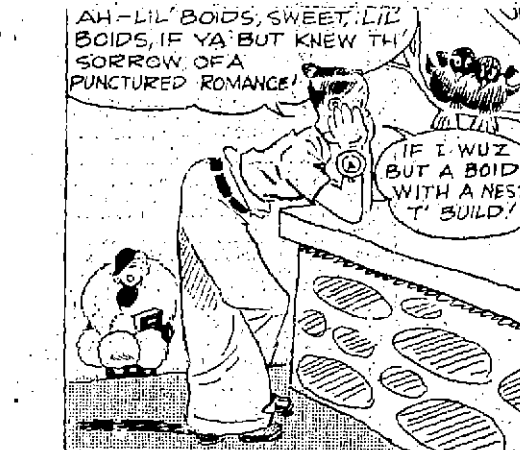

The P. T. A. held its monthly meeting at the high school Tuesday night, with a good attendance of teachers and parents. A solo was sung by Mr. Drake, who also gave a reading. George Weingartner of New Castle, was the speaker of the evening.

Urges U. S. Preparedness As Guarantee Of Peace

Patriotic Orders Hear Address By Col. Landers Sunday Afternoon

Service Is Conducted At Trinity Episcopal Church—Large Crowd

Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, a large concourse of interested people were present in Trinity Episcopal church to attend the service and address sponsored by Kus-Kus-Ka Chapter, Daughters of American Revolution, Daughters of American Colonists, Daughters of 1812 and the International Relations Committee of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs.

The address of the afternoon was an effort of a convincing type by Colonel H. L. Landers (DOL), chief of staff of the 99th Division, Pittsburgh and followed a short service conducted by Rev. Philip C. Pearson, rector of Trinity Episcopal church. The choir of the church directed by Prof. Paul Browne Patterson presented a program of music in keeping with the occasion.

Colonel Landers dealt with his subject in a most interesting manner, giving facts concerning past and present world conditions, which indicated the need of preparedness as a means of preventing war, leaving each individual in his audience with the privilege of arriving at his own conclusions in the matter.

The underlying objective of the address was to show that in the present day disturbed conditions that exist in the world, that the nation that was not prepared, to defend itself, must needs be prepared to the bidding of others and only the nation that was prepared, might hope to survive and also keep out of war because of its preparedness.

Don't take calomel! HERE'S NEW HEALTH FOR YOUR LIVER

Now banish bad breath, pimples, constipation; feel like a million!

That tired, frowny feeling in the morning, that "dark-brown" taste in the mouth—if you would banish them and win back buoyant health, don't expect relief from salts, mineral oil, or candy and chewing-gum laxatives.

For such remedies only move the bowels. While chances are, you're one of the thousands suffering from sluggish liver which does not yield sufficient bile—causing pimples, blemishes, headaches, bad breath and a general run-down feeling.

What you need is something which acts thoroughly but harmlessly upon the liver. And in Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets you will find that "something," which stimulates the bile flow.

A successful substitute for calomel, these famous tablets are compounded of pure vegetable ingredients, and have been praised for years by millions.

To get and keep the bile flowing freely—correcting constipation, skin troubles, and win back that "fine-and-dandy" feeling of youth—go to your drugstore for Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets today. 15c, 30c, 60c.

His three principal points were:—

World War Debts, Germany and the Far East. In the discussion on the first point, he showed that had this country not entered the World War, when it did, that France must have collapsed, leaving Germany and England as the two great world powers and with Germany prepared to collect the cost of the war from the United States. He explained that the United States with its lack of proper defensive forces and equipment would have been an easy prey for Germany and that this country was really considered such by Germany.

Speaking of his second point, Germany, he stated that no nation can be killed by the signing of a treaty, such as that of Versailles, in which Germany was saddled with immense war debts, was inflicted with the stigma of war guilt, general disarmament. He stated that those who created the treaty did not really expect that Germany could be held to it for as long as it has been. Further, he said that the war guilt might more or less properly be placed at the door of Serbia.

In connection with his final point, he explained that the need of Japan for lands where its rapidly multiplying population might expand, together with the insidious activity of Russian Communism throughout the world and especially in China, threatening the peace and happiness not only of China but of Japan and in fact the whole world, might have some real effect on the peace of the world. His remarks rather indicated the idea that Japan was fighting the battle of present day civilization against the growth of communism, which he termed something to be on our guard against.

Relative to war debts, he stated that it might be well to remember the possible consequences of the World War to ourselves, had we not entered when we did and allowed France to collapse, in view of our then defenseless condition, in considering the question of payment by our debtor nations at the present time.

The audience listened with rapt attention from the start to the finish.

Sunday Sports Bill Discussed In Conference

Fate Of Schwartz Bill Rests With Work Of Joint Conference Committee

HOPE TO ENACT
BILL THIS WEEK

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Mar. 27.—A conference committee to which was entrusted the fate of the Schwartz Sunday sports bill was scheduled to meet this afternoon at 1 o'clock in an effort to draft a report that will compromise the differences of both houses and dispatch the measure to the governor.

The bill provides for referenda on the question of allowing Sunday baseball and football in Pennsylvania. Refusal of the house to agree to senate amendments brought the conference committee. If an agreement is reached, both the house and senate will have to approve the committee's report to keep the bill alive.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle.

One of the local dentists is wondering whether a former service man isn't confusing him with an elephant. Not for size but for memory. An elephant never forgets, but a dentist does, and the one in question can't be blamed much.

A lad from out in Ohio blew in the other afternoon and said that in 1917 he had been in Camp Sheridan, Ill., where he had his teeth fixed. The local dentist was in Camp Sheridan also but couldn't remember the incident.

The visitor could and it seemed that he had to get an affidavit from the dentist in order to complete some compensation records he was making out. Did the doctor remember the work he had done? The doctor was sorry but he didn't.

"After working on 3800 men out there, it seems to me that I can't be charged with too much forgetfulness if I do not remember one individual after 16 years" said the doc, "but I think he was out there at that."

Appendicitis is nothing to laugh about, but Prof. Ben Ewema of Westminster College is getting a chuckle up in the Jameson Memorial hospital, even though the hem-stitching is just beginning to heal.

He has his whole family in the hospital. He is in one room with appendicitis and his wife is on the floor above with a brand new son that arrived a day or two after Pa Ben was operated upon.

Near beer is disappearing, if it means anything to you. Confectioners and his wife is notified by jobbers that there will be no more near beer after the present supply runs out. So what.

This argument about gas masks for firemen has gone far enough. One fireman I met insisted that they have them and other one insists they haven't and both of them are men of integrity. If they have them they ought to use them and if they haven't, then they should have them provided.

Seems as though they can get through from the Slippery Rock this morning. The poet laureate out there sent in this brief verse based on what he has just heard. Seems that news of the beer bill has just got out there.

Let me call you sweetheart is a mighty pretty song, and the sentiment I think is sweet and fine, but it won't be long till folks will change back to the long ago and the sweetheart then will be sweet adeline.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 27.—New Castle was one of the few cities in the country which reported an increase in construction last year, the bureau of labor statistics reported today.

Construction costing $376,750 was authorized in New Castle by building permits issued in 1932. Expenditures for new residential construction dropped from $153,250 to $40,800, and expenditures for alterations and repairs declined from $46,320 to $12,335.

Jewish Leaders Continue Plans For Mass Meetings

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Mar. 27.—Professors of reformation by spokesmen of the Hitler government went unheeded today as New York became the loud speaker through which America's disapproval of Jewish persecution was voiced in a mighty roar of protest.

Notwithstanding assurances given by German government leaders and by Secretary of State Hull at Washington that the Nazi excesses against the Jewish race had ceased in Germany, Jewish leaders went ahead with plans for protest mass meetings throughout the country.

It was estimated more than 1,000,000 persons would participate in these meetings to be held tonight in nearly 300 cities and towns in every section of the United States.
